Understanding cancer metabolism: exploring tumor heterogeneity to advance cancer therapy

University "Magna Græcia", Catanzaro, 29-30 June 2023

The 47th FEBS Congress 'Together in bioscience for a better future' will be held in Tours, France from 8th to 12th July 2023.

The event will be hosted by The French Society for Biochemistry and Molecular Biology (SFBBM) and it aims to provide participants with a broad perspective on recent research progress across the molecular and cellular life sciences, encouraging exchange of ideas between fields. In addition, a choice of symposia sessions will offer deeper dives into fast-moving topics identified as exciting and important areas for researchers to keep abreast of now, from basic science subjects to topics with more direct relevance for human health and environmental concerns.

Deadline for late-breaking abstract submission: May 24, 2023

Deadline for regular registration: June 8, 2023

FEBS NEWS

The call for FEBS Summer Fellowships in 2023 is open until 1 May 2023. Fellowships are awarded to PhD and Master's students in the FEBS area for a research stay of six to twelve weeks in the laboratory of their choice in a different FEBS country. Visit the Summer Fellowships section of the FEBS website for details.

The fifth edition of the FEBS Education Joint Workshop "Evolving molecular bioscience education" organized in association with IUBMB will take place in Manchester, UK, 25–26 May 2023.

Membership

The Italian Society of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology (SIB) brings together researchers and professionals in the field of biochemistry and molecular biology in Italy. As part of its overall goal of fostering the molecular life sciences, SIB organizes and sponsors several events and supports its Junior members through grant awarding.
